THE GREATER GOOD! Message from the Co-Director Joe Vazquez

Having served in rescue mission's for over 23 years I think I could fill a book with some of the amazing things I have been able to participate in and be part of. Now I believe that God wants to fill volumes of books with what we would that, and we tend to miss it a lot. Because we look for the “Big” miracles. But heaven takes notice over one sinner that repents (Luke 15:10) since it is an easy task for God to part the waters and destroy all of the enemies of His people.

call miracles. At the Mission we work in an environment of miracles. One of my personal views of the miraculous or supernatural is “things that do not happen naturally.” I try to simplify it for the people we serve at the Mission. Yes, when truly amazing things happen like “the parting of the Red Sea” that is a miracle. But God is so much more subtle than

This year I have been a part of helping a couple of dear friends, Wayne and Monica Wilson. The Mission's founders and servants to this community for some 30 years. When Monica was diagnosed with cancer 4 years ago, we all began praying for her and Wayne. So, when we were doing her funeral, I sat there reflecting on her lifetime of serving the people of Salt Lake, and her devotion to everything the ministry stands for. Reaching out to the most vulnerable of our neighbors, men, women, and children. Monica left it all out on the field as they say. So, it was very personal for me to be able to hold things together here in Salt Lake, while They were off on sabbatical for more than a year fighting cancer, then a brain tumor. I am thankful that we were able to serve the community, keep the ministry open during Covid, and give them the time they needed to share their last months and moments together as a husband and wife. That is what I remember most about this year, serving our friends, when they needed us the most.

I would ask everyone to prayerfully consider supporting Salt Lake City Mission in 2021. Help us take Monica's Legacy of Love into the future. She wanted us to continue to stay open, serve the people, and share the love of God.

Wayne & Monica Wilson.
Salt Lake City Mission Founders.

A YEAR FOR BREAKING RECORDS!

Yes, this will be a year to remember for all of us at Salt Lake City Mission! The Covid pandemic caused us to change the way we serve the public, but as we learned to adjust ultimately our desires to serve the public resonated with many new “friends.” With the help of so many in the community Salt Lake City Mission served more people this year than EVER BEFORE. Together with our many partnering organizations, pastors and their churches, volunteers, and our growing local business support we provided assistance to the greatest number of people in a single year. So, thank you to everyone for whatever part you played in orchestrating an amazing story of hope and compassion.
